

*Semi-automatic structure test on forged parts for correct heat treatment with eddyliner® P

The parts are placed on a parts chute by hand and reach the test position.

Exchange parts simplify change-over with the enormous parts variety.

Depending on the sorting decision of the test instrument, the tested part is either forwarded to the OK parts chute via a sorting rocker or passed on to the zincked NOK parts container

